Drafting of Reply On Reparations Brings Difficulty To Curzon

Not Likely Now That Note and Covering Letter Will Be Sent to Allied Nations Until Next Week—Cause of Delay Is Not Known

LONDON, July 19.—Another cabinet council has been summoned for tomorrow to consider further the draft of the British reply to Germany on reparations. This announcement was made late tonight.

Curzon is experiencing more difficulty in the preparation of his note to Germany than had been expected.

It is now reported that the note and the covering letter may not be despatched to the allies until next week, but whether the trouble has arisen from political friction within the cabinet, or simply from the difficulty of framing a reply to Germany which would not offend France, is not evident.
